Now that the cooler weather is upon us, there are fewer of our homes being occupied. It's incumbent upon each of us to be especially vigilant about our surroundings and the activities taking place in our neighborhoods. For those of us traveling or leaving unoccupied homes, it's even more important to be vigilant: please designate a friend or neighbor to monitor each property for security, leaks and other trouble signs. Let's make sure that all of our homes enjoy a safe Holiday Season!
